The status of the claims is as follows:

Claims 4 and 9 has been cancelled; and Claims 1-3, 5-8 and 10-20 are herein addressed below.

Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 17, line 2, and claim 18, line 2, the phraseology "a hidden frame type" and "a single flange type" is not readily understood by the Examiner. Is it a frame or not? Is it a flange or not?

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3, 5-8, and 10-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. patent to Gueneau et al. (5,319,883) in view of Weimar (4,542,610). Gueneau et al. (5,319,883) disclose an elastomeric/plastomeric weather-strip (See figure 8 below) forming a slideway, a web (3a) having two jaws forming a channel, a retaining abutment (62) contacting a projection (64) from the flange (40c), and two parallel branches (see figure below) having sealing lips (see figure below) contacting a window pane (G) and having a root with reduced thickness. Gueneau et al. (5,319,883) fail to disclose a reinforcement element.

Weimar ('610) discloses the use of a reinforcement element (18) located at any position along a weather-strip (column 5, lines 19-37). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide the weather-strip of Gueneau et al. (5,319,883) with a reinforcement element as taught by Weimar ('610) since a reinforcement element provides extra strength and rigidity to the weather-strip along portions which need strengthened.

The applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive. Firstly, the Examiner respects the applicant's arguments with respect to the 35 U.S.C. 112 2nd paragraph rejections but the phraseology "...-type" is indefinite and fails to positively recite the claimed invention. Again, is it a hidden frame and a single flange or not? With respect to the art rejection, the applicant states that the wire of Weimar has a different use and not a reinforcement element per se. The Examiner respectively disagrees. It appears that the applicant is arguing the references individually and not the combination thereof. The wire of Weimar ('610) clearly states (column 3, lines 13-14) "one of the purposes of the wire insert is to enable the sealing strip to be stiffened". Thus, taking the rejection and the combination of the references as a whole, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would look to Weimar to reinforce the weather-strip of Gueneau et al.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
